

Joint Negotiations Update #2

Spirit AeroSystems and International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers Local Lodge 839

June 14th, 2010

During the weekend meetings on Saturday and Sunday, we continued to resolve the outstanding non-economic issues.

We will now start the economic discussions, beginning with the benefit portion of the contract.

During our Saturday sessions, the Committees jointly developed guiding principles for the economic discussions. This agreement sets the stage as we take the talks to the next level. We are working to understand the important issues for both the Company and the Union members, so that we can come to a win-win contract for everyone.

These negotiations have been very different than the usual labor-management negotiations. We are seeking to find common ground on the issues before us.

We have a long way to go, and we're going to be busy at the table until we reach a tentative agreement for the IAM members to vote on.

Spirit AeroSystems Negotiating Committee

Machinists Union LL 839 Negotiating Committee